Dear Parents,

It has been a very busy and productive term with lots of learning and fun. We are all ready for a break to blow out the germs and recharge the batteries. Early next term notes will come home for parent teacher interviews.

It would be great if all children could keep up their reading daily. Here's wishing you all a very Happy Easter and restful and safe holiday.

PERSUASIVE WRITING

This week's writing task is to persuade Easter Bunny that they really deserve lots of Easter eggs this year. Here are some very convincing arguments from Indy and Jacob.

Hello Mr Easter Bunny,

Can you pretty,pretty,please bring me lots of Easter eggs?

Firstly, I have been the best person in the world. Last year I gave everyone in Curramulka an Easter egg which left me with no Easter eggs for myself. Because I gave them away last year ,I deserve more this year.

Secondly, I have been so good at school. I have finished all my work and helped other people with their work.

Thirdly, I help around my football club, running water to players, knowing there is no money reward. Because I do all this for free I don't have any money to buy chocolate for myself.

Finally if you don't, I will hunt you down and squeeze you so hard your fluffy, little tail will go puff!

From Jacob.

PS I did say please so you have to bring me lots of eggs.

Dear Easter Bunny,

I think I deserve lots of chocolate eggs.

Firstly there is a girl down the road who is lactose intolerant. She can't eat chocolate so can I have all of hers please?

Secondly, there are some homeless people that live down the corner from me. If you give me lots of chocolates, I will give them to the homeless people.

Thirdly, if I don't get a lot of chocolate I will get too skinny and die a horrible , slow death.

Fourthly, my little sister is expecting you to come but if you don't, she will get my pop to shoot you and all your rascally little friends.

Finally, my step sister broke her arm and is a little brat. She can't eat them as she cant hold them and she does not deserve them.

Please give me lots of chocolate! From Indy.

ASIAN NIGHT

Asian Night was a good opportunity for the children to showcase the work that they had been doing during term 1. The youngest children spoke in Indonesian, sang the numbers song and showed their work on animals of the Indonesian rain forests. Children from Years 5-7 demonstrated their understandings about the Asian country they had been studying in term 1. The food again was absolutely delicious. Thanks to parents for going to such a lot of trouble in cooking Asian dishes.
